

Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

ResMed is dedicated to conducting business in a lawful manner and to the highest standards of business ethics. We expect our suppliers to conduct business to the same high standards.

The United Kingdom's Modern Slavery Act requires certain commercial organisations that carry on a business in the United Kingdom to disclose the steps taken to ensure slavery and human trafficking are not taking place in their business or supply chain.

This statement describes what ResMed does to ensure that slavery and human trafficking are not taking place in our business or in our supply chain. This statement reflects the actions we are taking as a group of companies.

About ResMed

ResMed designs, manufactures and markets medical devices and cloud-based software solutions for the diagnosis, management and treatment of sleep apnea, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and other respiratory conditions. We operate globally in over 120 countries.

The majority of products sold by ResMed's United Kingdom operations are manufactured by related parties within the ResMed group of companies. ResMed has a multi-tiered supply chain and sources materials from around the world. We communicate our expectations regarding human trafficking and slavery to our suppliers through our systems, policies, contracts and procedures.

Policies

Within ResMed

ResMed issues a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics to ResMed employees. The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics states our expectation that all ResMed employees uphold our corporate values and comply with all applicable laws and regulations. The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics also contains provisions to protect employees' freedom of association and right to work in a harassment-free work environment.

Employees have a duty to report any known or suspected violations of ResMed's Code of Conduct and Ethics. We provide an ethics hotline which employees may use to anonymously report potential violations of ResMed's Code of Conduct and Ethics. Failure to comply with ResMed's Code of Conduct and Ethics may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

Our supply chain

ResMed has a Supplier Code of Conduct that states our requirements for our suppliers regarding labour and human rights. The Supplier Code of Conduct sets out our expectations that suppliers:

- Ensure that there is no mental or physical coercion, physical punishment, forced labour, bonded labour, or prison labour;
- Ensure that workers are not required to lodge "deposits" or identity papers;
- Do not engage in the use of child labour;
- Comply with applicable discrimination laws;
- Ensure that every worker is treated with respect and dignity, and not subject to physical, sexual, psychological or verbal harassment or abuse;
- Recognise and respect the right of employees to freedom of association and collective bargaining;
- Ensure that wages and benefits meet, at a minimum, national laws including minimum wage legislation and collective agreements; and
- Ensure that working hours comply with national laws and collective agreements.

In addition, our standard supply terms for component manufacturers prohibit our suppliers from using child labour, prison labour, slave labour or any other form of forced or involuntary labour. Our standard supply terms for component manufacturers also require our suppliers to comply with applicable laws relating to wages, hours and conditions of employment, and occupational health and safety. Our suppliers must pass on these requirements to their sub-contractors.

Finally, ResMed has a Supplier Manual which requires our suppliers to comply with labour and employment laws, including prohibitions against child labour, and forced or involuntary labour. ResMed views failure to comply with any part of the ResMed Supplier Manual seriously. ResMed may take steps up to and including removal of suppliers from ResMed's approved supplier list in the event of non-compliance with any part of ResMed's Supplier Manual.

Assessing and Managing Risk

ResMed uses internal resources to evaluate the risk of human trafficking and slavery in its supply chain. We conduct audits of a number of our suppliers to monitor their ongoing compliance with ResMed's systems, policies and procedures.

Training

We train relevant employees in our supply function about human trafficking and slavery within the supply chain based on our policies and procedures.

In addition, this past year we trained our key suppliers on the importance of not using human trafficking and slavery. The training covered our policies and expectations on slavery and human trafficking, and our plans to monitor our suppliers against these requirements.
