Helios Technologies Completes Listing Transfer to the New York Stock Exchange

11/1/2021

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- The New York Stock Exchange, part of Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. (NYSE: ICE), a leading global provider of data, technology and market infrastructure, announced that Helios Technologies (NYSE: HLIO) has completed its listing transfer and will begin trading today as an NYSE-listed company.

Helios, a global industrial technology leader that develops and manufactures hydraulic and electronic control solutions, will now be able to leverage all of the advantages of membership in the NYSE community.

These advantages include the Exchange's unique market model, which combines cutting-edge technology with accountability and human judgment. Membership also brings an unmatched network of CEOs and business leaders, drawn from 2,400 of the world's largest and most innovative companies, the incomparable brand visibility that stems from an Exchange listing and core investor relations services.

"We are pleased to join the NYSE, one of the world's most prestigious trading platforms, as we continue to execute on our transformational journey as a pure play global electronics/hydraulics company," said Josef Matosevic, President and CEO, Helios Technologies. "The move to the NYSE is a planned milestone along our strategic journey, which we expect will provide long-term value for our shareholders."

"We are excited to welcome Helios Technologies as it transfers its listing to the New York Stock Exchange," said John Tuttle, Vice Chairman and Chief Commercial Officer, NYSE Group. "As a company committed to pioneering innovative solutions, Helios will be at home in NYSE's community of icons and disruptors."

Nearly 300 companies have switched their listings to the NYSE since 2000, representing more than $1 trillion in current market value.
