Year-to-date, average daily volume in Cocoa futures is 15,448 contracts, up more than 20% from a year ago. Volume in the ICE soft commodities complex, which includes world benchmark contracts like sugar, coffee, cocoa, and cotton, is up more than 15% through the end of October compared to last year, reflecting increasing global demands for commodities.

The ICE Futures U.S. Cocoa futures contract is the world benchmark for the global cocoa market, pricing physical delivery of exchange-grade cocoa from African, Asian and Central and South American origins to any of five U.S. delivery ports.
