The Canadian House of Commons yesterday passed Bill C-18, which will end the Canadian Wheat Board's monopoly for sales and marketing of Canadian wheat and barley in the export and human consumption markets as of August 1, 2012. The Bill requires approval by the Senate of Canada and Royal Assent to become law. Following enactment, ICE Futures Canada expects to be able to list the new contracts in January 2012, with the first contracts for delivery in October 2012.

Additional information on the new contracts, including specifications and product brochures, will be available at https://www.theice.com/futures_canada.jhtml.
