CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This presentation may contain “forward-looking statements” made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Statements regarding ICE’s business that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Although we believe the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, these statements are not guarantees of future results, performance, levels of activity or achievements, and actual results may differ materially from what is expressed or implied in any forward-looking statement. The factors that might affect our performance include, but are not limited to: conditions in global financial markets and domestic and international economic and social conditions, including inflation, changes to international trade policies and tariffs, risk of recession, political uncertainty and discord, prolonged United States, or U.S., government shutdowns, geopolitical events and conflicts (including the conflicts in Ukraine and the Middle East and the events in Venezuela) and sanctions laws; global political conditions; volatility in commodity prices and equity prices, and price volatility of financial benchmarks and instruments such as interest rates, credit spreads, equity indices, foreign exchange rates, and mortgage industry trends; the business environment in which we operate and trends in our industries, including trading volumes, prevalence of clearing, demand for data services, mortgage lending and servicing activity, mortgage delinquencies, fees, changing regulations, competition (including from entrants or non-traditional competitors) and consolidation; our ability to minimize the risks associated with operating clearing houses in multiple jurisdictions; the global impact of the introduction of, or any changes to, laws, regulations, rules, government policies or tax or accounting requirements with respect to, among other things, financial markets and climate-related risks, as well as increased regulatory scrutiny or enforcement actions; our exchanges’ and clearing houses’ compliance with their respective regulatory and oversight responsibilities; the resilience of our electronic platforms and soundness of our business continuity and disaster recovery plans, including in the event of cyberattacks, cyberterrorism or other disruptions; our ability to effectively pursue, implement and realize the anticipated cost savings, growth opportunities and synergies and other benefits from our past or future acquisitions and strategic investments within the expected time frame; the impacts of computer and communications systems failures and delays, inclusive of the performance and reliability of our trading, clearing, data services and mortgage technologies and those of third-party service providers; our ability to keep pace with technological developments and client preferences, including with regard to our emerging technology initiatives and the use of artificial intelligence in certain of our existing products; our ability to ensure that the technology we utilize is not vulnerable to cyberattacks, hacking and other cybersecurity risks or other disruptive events or to minimize the impact of any such events; the impact of climate-related risks and the impact of, and uncertainty related to, the transition to renewable energy, including regulatory and legislative changes; our ability to keep information and data relating to the customers of the users of the software and services provided by our ICE Mortgage Technology business confidential; the impacts of a public health emergency or pandemic on our business, results of operations and financial condition as well as the broader business environment; our ability to identify trends and adjust our business to benefit from such trends, including trends in the U.S. mortgage industry such as inflation rates, interest rates, new home purchases, refinancing activity, servicing activity, delinquencies and home builder and buyer sentiment, among others; our ability to evolve our benchmarks and indices in a manner that maintains or enhances their reliability and relevance; the accuracy of our cost and other financial estimates and our belief that cash flows from operations will be sufficient to service our debt and to fund our operational and capital expenditure needs; our ability to incur additional debt and pay off our existing debt in a timely manner; our ability to declare and pay dividends and repurchase shares of our common stock; our ability to maintain existing market participants and data and mortgage technology customers, and to attract new ones; our ability to offer additional products and services, leverage our risk management capabilities and enhance our technology in a timely and cost-effective fashion; our ability to attract, develop and retain key talent; our ability to protect our intellectual property rights and to operate our business without violating the intellectual property rights of others; and potential adverse results of threatened or pending litigation and regulatory actions and proceedings. For a discussion of such risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual results to differ from those contained in the forward-looking statements, see ICE’s Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) filings, including, but not limited to ICE’s most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, as filed with the SEC on February 5, 2026. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement or statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which such statement is made or to reflect the occurrence of an unanticipated event. New factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for management to predict all factors that may affect our business and prospects. Further, management cannot assess the impact of each factor on the business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

GAAP AND NON-GAAP RESULTS

This presentation includes non-GAAP measures that exclude certain items we do not consider reflective of our cash operations and core business performance. We believe that the presentation of these non-GAAP measures provides investors with greater transparency and supplemental data relating to our financial condition and results of operations. These adjusted non-GAAP measures should be considered in context with our GAAP results. A reconciliation of Adjusted Net Income Attributable to ICE, Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share Attributable to ICE common stockholders, Adjusted Operating Income, Adjusted Operating Margin, Adjusted Operating Expenses, and Adjusted Free Cash Flow to the equivalent GAAP measure and an explanation of why we deem these non-GAAP measures meaningful appears in our Form 10-K and in the appendix to this presentation. The reconciliation of Adjusted Non-Operating Income/Expense Reconciliation, Adjusted Effective Tax Rate, and Debt-to-Adjusted EBITDA to the equivalent GAAP results appear in the appendix to this presentation. Our Form 10-K, earnings press release and this presentation are available in the Investors and Media section of our website at www.ice.com.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Throughout this supplement:

- All net revenue figures represent revenues less transaction-based expenses for periods shown.
- All earnings per share figures represent diluted weighted average common shares outstanding.
- References to pro forma amounts or results include the combined results of Black Knight and ICE as if we owned Black Knight since 2021.
