“Hyatt Place Los Cabos was one of the most visual representations of Hurricane Odile’s aftermath, and today, we proudly reopen our doors to guests,” said Myles McGourty, senior vice president, Hyatt Latin America and Caribbean. “This opening is symbolic as it represents the beginning of a new chapter for the Hyatt Place Los Cabos team, which is looking forward to welcoming guests for many years to come.”

“We are delighted that Hyatt Place Los Cabos is once again open. The reconstruction of the hotel has exceeded our expectations,” said Jose De La Maza of Grupo Hermosillo. “Visitors to Los Cabos can expect the same friendly and convenient 24/7 amenities they’ve come to know and love from the Hyatt Place brand. Los Cabos is a special place for travelers from all over the world, and the community that resides here is stronger and more resilient than before.”

The hotel brings the Hyatt Place brand’s modern conveniences and stylish design to the Mexican market. Hyatt Place Los Cabos is conveniently located on Paseo Malecón, just 20 minutes from the Los Cabos International Airport.
