Public Storage Launches Things She Saved Video Contest

GLENDALE, California—Public Storage (NYSE:PSA) is preparing for Mother’s Day by announcing its Things She Saved Video Contest today. The company is offering the chance to win $5,000 to videographers ready to share stories about family heirlooms that bring good memories of time spent with mom.

Contestants should share why their moms, or a special person who mothered them while they were growing up, are the best and what they love about their family treasures. The videos must be two minutes or less and feature all original content (that includes backup music for those who want to use it).

Upload videos to the Public Storage Things She Saved Contest tab on Facebook, or on the mobile-friendly contest page, by the end of the day April 30, 2018 for a chance to win! And visit those pages for more details and official contest rules.

The company will announce the finalists and post their videos to the Public Storage YouTube channel on May 4, 2018. Winners will be selected as fan favorites based on the most views by the contest deadline, 9 a.m. (PDT) on May 10, 2018.

Last month, a Public Storage fan beat out a group of hilarious employees and a prankster customer to win the $5,000 in our What a Joke! Video Contest. Give them a watch here if you’re ready for a few laughs! And don’t forget to follow Public Storage on Facebook and Twitter.

For more information, please contact company Vice President Clemente Teng at (818) 244-8080, Ext. 1141.

Company Information

We help customers in their time of need, whether moving, downsizing or storing for business. Public Storage was founded in 1972 with a single Southern California self-storage building. We’ve grown a bit since then, to more than 2,386 locations around the country, making us the largest in the business today and a member of the S&P 500. We offer self-storage options of all shapes and sizes and the same personal attention from on-site managers that we’ve been giving from day one. For stockholders, we are a real estate investment trust, meaning we distribute a large portion of revenue to public investors in the form of dividends.
