

Why some large advisory firms stand out

What separates the great from the truly great? What practices and characteristics are needed to perform at a higher level? To find out, TD Ameritrade Institutional took a deep dive into the FA Insight Study of Advisory Firms in 2018 and 2019. Specifically, we studied large firms generating at least $4 million in annual revenue and often managing $1 billion or more in client assets. Within this group, Standout performers emerged—those defined by FA Insight as having top-quartile growth and profit margins.

Among large firms, the following traits are more prevalent in large Standout firms. These facts are part of a more comprehensive FA Insight report arriving later this year.

Mergers & acquisitions
