Adjusted operating cash flow figures are non-GAAP financial measures which are meant to provide additional information and should not be used as a substitute for performance measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. For more information about these non-GAAP financial measures, and a reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures for the three and twelve months ended December 31, 2010 and December 31, 2009, please refer to the press releases dated February 17, 2011, available on our website at www.kinross.com under the heading "Reconciliation of non-GAAP financial measures". Comparative figures for the periods 2004 to 2008 represent cash flow from operations which are adjusted for changes in working capital only. Prior to the three and six months ended December 31, 2009, the Company did not prepare a reconciliation of adjusted operating cash flow, and readers should refer to the Company's financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for the applicable periods for additional financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP.

(2) Total ounces per 1,000 shares represent the sum of Proven and Probable Mineral Reserves, plus Measured and Indicated Mineral Resources plus Inferred Mineral Resources for the Company as at December 31, of the given year, divided by the shares outstanding as at December 31, 2009. Proven and Probable Mineral Reserves, Measured and Indicated Mineral Resources and Inferred Mineral Resources are separate categories under NI 43-101.

(3) Please refer to Kinross’ Mineral Resource and Reserve Statement at December 31, 2009, contained in our press release dated January 28, 2010, which is available on our website at www.kinross.com. For historical reserve and resource information, refer to Kinross’ public filings, available on our website. Reserve and resource figures for Cerro Casale were adjusted to reflect the sale of half of Kinross’ 50% interest to Barrick Gold Corporation.

(5) Cost of sales per ounce is defined as cost of sales as per the financial statements divided by the number of gold equivalent ounces sold, both reduced for Kupol sales attributable to a third party 25% shareholder.

(6) Unless otherwise stated, production and cost of sales figures in this presentation are based on Kinross’ share of Kupol production (75%).

(7) Cost of sales margin is defined as the average realized gold price less attributable cost of sales per ounce.

(10) Estimates are based on Northern Gold's drill results, recently updated resource estimates and other information reviewed by Kinross. Under NI 43-101, the potential tonnage and grade is conceptual in nature, there has been insufficient exploration to define a mineral resource, and it is uncertain if further exploration will result in the discovery of a mineral resource.

United States investors are advised that, while such terms are recognized and required by Canadian securities law, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") does not recognize them. Under United States standards, mineralization may not be classified as a "reserve" unless the determination has been made that the mineralization could be economically and legally produced or extracted at the time the reserve determination is made. United States investors are cautioned not to assume that all or any part of measured or indicated mineral resources will ever be converted into reserves. Further, "inferred mineral resources" have a great amount of uncertainty to their existence and so to whether they can be mined legally or economically. It cannot be assumed that all or any part of "inferred mineral resources" will ever be upgraded to a higher category. Therefore, United States investors are also cautioned not to assume that all or any part of the inferred resources exist, or that they can be mined legally or economically. Disclosure of "contained ounces" permitted disclosure under Canadian regulations, however, the SEC normally only permits issuers to report "resources" as "in place tonnage and grade without reference to unit measures. Accordingly, information concerning descriptions of mineralization and resources contained in this presentation or in the documents incorporated by reference, may not be comparable to information made public by United States companies subject to the reporting and disclosure requirements of the SEC.

National Instrument 43-101 – Standards of Disclosure for Mineral Projects ("NI 43-101") is a rule developed by the Canadian Securities Administrators which establishes standards for all public disclosure an issuer makes of scientific and technical information concerning mineral projects. Unless otherwise indicated, all mineral reserve and mineral resource estimates contained in or incorporated by reference in this presentation have been prepared in accordance with NI 43-101 and the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum Classification System. These standards differ significantly from the requirements of the SEC, and mineral reserve and mineral resource information contained herein and incorporated by reference herein may not be comparable to similar information disclosed by United States companies.
