KUPOL, CHUKOTKA, RUSSIA

Located in a remote site at the Arctic Circle in Russia’s Chukotka Region, Kupol’s success showcases our ability to surmount logistical challenges and build an exceptional mine in less than 5 years.
The Buckhorn mine is a model of responsible small-footprint mining, and proof that meaningful stakeholder engagement can transform a once-contentious development into a “win-win”.
The expansion at our Paracatu operation has transformed it into Brazil’s largest gold producer, with a mine life that extends to 2041.
FORT KNOX, ALASKA

At our Fort Knox operation, we constructed a heap leach facility for low grade ore, the first such facility ever permitted in the state.
ENHANCING OUR GLOBAL ORGANIZATION

In 2009, we focused our core business around four strategic operating groups.
THE KINROSS WAY

The guiding philosophy that defines our culture, informs how we work and provides us with a distinct blueprint for managing the opportunities and responsibilities that come with being a gold mining company today.
Operationalizing the Kinross Way: Continuous Improvement

Continuous improvement (CI) is helping us implement world-class operating practices, and to become a leader in operational excellence.
IN 2009, CI REDUCED OUR CASH COSTS BY $14/OZ.
In 2009, we took important steps to reinforce corporate responsibility as a key business priority.
SOCIAL LICENSE TO OPERATE

Our success as a mining company increasingly depends on whether our neighbours in the countries and communities where we operate see a net benefit resulting from our activities.
PARACATU, BRAZIL

At Paracatu, we are proceeding with plans to construct a third ball mill to increase grinding capacity.
In January 2010, we announced an agreement to acquire the high-grade Dvoinoye deposit and Vodorazdelnaya property, located approximately 100 km from our Kupol operation.
We have identified an opportunity to increase ore processing by 50% by expanding capacity of the existing crushing plant.
In 2009, we completed a pre-feasibility study of our Lobo-Marte project, a development stage asset with large gold resources and the benefit of existing infrastructure and potential synergies with Kinross operations in the region.
FRUTA DEL NORTE, ECUADOR

Our Fruta del Norte project is arguably the premier gold discovery in a generation.
CERRO CASALE, CHILE

We have chosen to sell down our interest in the Cerro Casale project to 25% in order to ‘right-size’ the project in to our portfolio mix.
