

October 28, 2020

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

This afternoon we reported strong third quarter 2020 results. Consistent with our comments in the second quarter Shareholder Letter, we are not planning to hold quarterly conference calls prior to the close of our acquisition by Just Eat Takeaway.com (JET).

JET's proposed acquisition of Grubhub has received all the required regulatory clearances, and JET shareholders have overwhelmingly approved the proposed transaction. The closing process is progressing, and we expect to complete the transaction in the first half of 2021, once the SEC registration and stock exchange listing process for the JET American Depositary Share (ADS) is completed and we hold our shareholder vote to approve the transaction.

The third quarter was an outstanding, record quarter for our marketplace. We generated 668,600 Daily Average Grubs (DAGs) (+46% year-over-year), resulting in $2.4 billion in Gross Food Sales (GFS) (+68% year-over-year). Backing out our corporate and Manhattan consumer volume, which have not benefited from COVID, GFS was up almost 95% year-over-year in the third quarter. Our smaller and suburban markets, including those with competitors, had GFS growth well over 100%. We ended the quarter with 30.0 million Active Diners (+41% year-over-year), Net revenues of $494.0 million, Adjusted EBITDA of $43.8 million and Adjusted EBITDA per order of $0.71.

During the onset of COVID, we quickly realized that our restaurant partners would face significant and prolonged challenges. Since March, we have consistently sought out ways to support our restaurant partners in this time of need while operating a long-term sustainable business. We have spent hundreds of millions of dollars to support restaurants over the last seven months, prioritizing generating as much volume as possible to our restaurant partners over our own profitability. This includes forgiven and reduced commissions, increased marketing support, restaurant-specific coupons funded by Grubhub, and bonuses and personal protective equipment for our drivers.

Grubhub was founded to help restaurants build their brands online: we did it for more than 20 years leading up to the pandemic, we have been there for restaurants during the pandemic, and we will support the restaurant community long after the pandemic ends. We intend to continue aggressively investing in and expanding our restaurant and diner networks, while focusing on helping our restaurant partners compete online over the long term.

We are excited about the current momentum in our marketplace – reaching 30 million Active Diners, approaching a $10 billion annual GFS run rate and achieving triple-digit momentum in competitive, smaller and suburban markets. And we did it profitably, posting our 27th consecutive quarter of positive Adjusted EBITDA as a public company.

Business Performance

Ordering Trends

Our strong third quarter performance is evidence that the pandemic has accelerated the secular shift towards online food ordering. Despite entering the historically sequentially slower summer season for our business, greater availability of outdoor dining, and the easing of indoor diner restrictions in many parts of the country, ordering trends further accelerated in the third quarter. DAGs were 668,600 an increase of 46% year-over-year, and an acceleration from 32% year-over-year growth in the second quarter. GFS reached $2.4 billion, an increase of 68% year-over-year, and an acceleration from 59% year-over-year growth in the second quarter. The acceleration in GFS growth was led by our Tier 1 markets, and we continued to experience strong, triple-digit growth from our other markets.

In Manhattan, we've observed a sequential increase in DAGs each month since April as residents have slowly reverted to pre-COVID behavior in their return to the city. Similarly, we are seeing improving sequential trends in our corporate business, albeit off a much smaller base, following the onset of COVID. Given the continued strengthening trends, we are confident that both our Manhattan consumer and corporate businesses will continue to gain momentum over time, particularly when the pandemic subsides in New York City.

Diner Acquisition and Behavior

We finished the quarter with 30.0 million Active Diners, up 41% year-over-year and a sequential increase of 2.5 million diners. Our new diner cost per acquisition remained stable, and repeat rates, which we believe is the best way to measure the quality of newly acquired diners, was approximately in-line with the second quarter and above pre-COVID levels. Existing diner cohorts, across both vintage and geography, are also contributing to our continued growth with their order frequency well above pre-COVID levels.

Restaurant Network

Grubhub now features approximately 245,000 partnered restaurants on its platform, a net increase of nearly 20,000 from late July. New additions for both independent and enterprise restaurants continued to be strong in the third quarter, higher than any quarter in 2019.

Importantly, we added more than four independent restaurants for every one large brand QSR location during the third quarter, ensuring our diners have a robust selection and enabling us to strike the right inventory balance. Large brand QSRs play an important role in our ecosystem by attracting and retaining diners, but despite having partnerships with virtually all of the large national players, in aggregate they only account for a mid-teens percentage of our order volume. As we noted in our February 2020 Shareholder Letter, generating the majority of orders from partnered independent restaurants that pay for demand generation has enabled us to achieve consistent profitability.

Third Quarter Key Business Metrics¹ and Financial Review

- Active Diners and Daily Average Grubs: We finished the quarter with 30.0 million Active Diners, up 41% year-over-year and up 2.5 million sequentially from the second quarter. DAGs were 668,600 in the third quarter, up 46% versus the third quarter of 2019.
- Gross Food Sales: GFS for the third quarter were $2.4 billion, an increase of 68% from the third quarter of 2019, with our average order size of $38 up 15% year-over-year, but down 3% sequentially.

¹ Key Business Metrics are defined on pages 28-29 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed on February 28, 2020.

- Net Revenues: Net revenues for the third quarter were $494 million, an increase of 53% year-over-year. Our capture rate, calculated as Net revenues divided by GFS, was 21% and includes roughly 60 bps from LevelUp and other technology-oriented revenues. Excluding these technology oriented revenues, our capture rate increased by approximately 120 bps from the second quarter where more than half of our $100 million of support spend, including coupons and free delivery, was accounted for as a reduction to revenue (i.e., contra revenue).
- Operations and Support: Operations and support expenses were $316 million, an increase of 96% year-over-year, driven by the disproportionate increase in Grubhub-delivered orders and the underlying growth of our overall order volume. Revenue less operations and support costs per order (“contribution profit”), which helps normalize for the mix shift to more Grubhub-delivered orders, was $2.89 per order, compared to $2.38 in the second quarter which was affected by our support initiatives.
- Sales and Marketing: Sales and marketing expenses were $98 million in the third quarter, a year-over-year increase of 37%.
- Technology: Technology expenses were $31 million, an increase of 4% year-over-year.
- General and Administrative: General and administrative expenses were $27 million. After adjusting for one-time costs, general and administrative expenses were $26 million compared to $24 million in the second quarter.
- Depreciation and Amortization: Depreciation and amortization expenses were $37 million compared to $35 million in the second quarter.
- GAAP Net Loss: Net loss was $9 million (loss per share of $0.10), compared to net income of $1 million (earnings per share of $0.01) in the third quarter of 2019.
- Adjusted EBITDA: Third quarter 2020 Adjusted EBITDA was $44 million or $0.71 per order compared to $13 million or $0.23 per order in the second quarter of 2020.

Guidance

Given Grubhub’s pending acquisition by JET, we are no longer issuing forward-looking guidance. Diner activity has remained robust so far in October, but due to the pandemic driving ordering strength during the warmer months, we do not necessarily believe the seasonal lift into winter will be as strong as prior years.

Thank you for your continued support, stay safe and we look forward to updating you on our progress.

Sincerely,

Matt Maloney, Founder and CEO
Adam DeWitt, President and CFO

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Adjusted EBITDA, non-GAAP net income (loss) and non-GAAP net income (loss) per diluted share attributable to common stockholders are financial measures that are not calculated in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, or GAAP.

We define Adjusted EBITDA as net income (loss) adjusted to exclude merger, acquisition, restructuring and certain legal costs, income taxes, net interest expense, depreciation and amortization and stock-based compensation expense. Non-GAAP net income (loss) and non-GAAP net income (loss) per diluted share attributable to common stockholders exclude merger, acquisition, restructuring and certain legal costs, amortization of acquired intangible assets, stock-based compensation expense and other nonrecurring items as well as the income tax effects of these non-GAAP adjustments. We use these non-GAAP financial measures as key performance measures because we believe they facilitate operating performance comparisons from period to period by excluding potential differences primarily caused by variations in capital structures, tax positions, the impact of acquisitions, restructuring and certain legal costs, the impact of depreciation and amortization expense on our fixed assets and the impact of stock-based compensation expense. Adjusted EBITDA, non-GAAP net income (loss) and non-GAAP net income (loss) per diluted share attributable to common stockholders are not measurements of our financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to performance measures derived in accordance with GAAP.

See “Non-GAAP Financial Measures Reconciliation” below for a reconciliation of net income (loss) to Adjusted EBITDA, non-GAAP net income (loss) and non-GAAP net income (loss) per diluted share attributable to common stockholders.
