Fidelity’s 2022 Money Moves Study

Despite the many additional challenges brought on throughout the pandemic, more women are investing than ever before.¹ Timed with Women’s History Month, Fidelity Investments® gathered new research to understand how women are approaching financial decisions and changing behaviors at the start of the third year of the COVID-19 crisis.

YOUNG WOMEN² ARE MAKING STRIDES TO BREAK DOWN FINANCIAL BOUNDARIES

THEIR 3 SMART MONEY MOVES:

1. Start Early

50% of young women have either started investing in the past six months or plan to in the next six months.

36% of older women regret waiting too long to start saving for retirement.

Here’s how your investments may grow if you start investing at age 25 versus 40:

Fidelity Investment’s® 2021 Women and Investing Study
Young women and men are categorized as those between the ages of 18 and 35, while older women are classified as those aged 36 and older.

This study presents the findings of a national online survey, among 2,015 adults, 18 years of age and older who own a listed investment account other than checking/savings. Interviewing was conducted December 16-27, 2021 by ENGINE Insights, which is not affiliated with Fidelity Investments. The results of this survey may not be representative of all adults meeting the same criteria as those surveyed for this study. The theoretical sampling error for all respondents is +/- 2.1% at 95% confidence. Fidelity was not identified as the sponsor of this study.

Keep in mind that investing involves risk. The value of your investment will fluctuate over time, and you may gain or lose money.
